1.4.385
a Lesson in the University of The New Covenant

Theodore Cottingham, October 29, 2006 10:41pm. North Kensington, London www.unc.bz

1. Who can see the clock on the wall? What wall, what clock? What time being? Who can see? Who cares the son of man perishing not but died having now life, incarcerated not but yoke-freed, incarcerating not others in religious freedom, but kingdom's freedom, father's freedom, freedom knowing no bound; operating in strictest surrender, not; ultimate surrender. Freed, and on purpose, not; father's ultimate will being. Design freed at last, again. I love you.

2. This is the day not, hour not; not, not, not. The very appointed time. Who can see me timeless'd? I love you. Transparent'd? Unique not; uniqueness of father's perfect identity, knowing as we are known. Perfect uniqueness; identity of one, uniquely me.

3. The staff changes. Multiple regression changes. Starshine changes, stars rearrange me not; themselves not; by/of themselves not; by/via forces not me. Other changes many, me/mine. Hop scotch not; this is the day of solidity not; transparency. And who can see/deal with one transparence'd?

I love you all.